Five addresses. Dr. Jordan's was on the line of the diseases these houses of prostitution spread, worse than tuberculosis or typhoid, though tuberculosis is a sequence often. He said "there are three plant germs communicated from these houses," and elaborated on these, asserting that most of hospital operations on women are result of this sin, communicated by husbands. His address was one which should be given to the public, and shewed the solemnity at the bottom of this traffic, & said that it was safe to say that one out of every 3 men who visit saloons visit these places, which usually open on saloons.
